Andrij 10984 Staff Impression

Andrij is tall and has a slim build. Standing at 6'3", he has warm brown eyes, a medium-sized nose, a full-lipped smile, and very fair skin that is framed by a beard and mustache that are the same color as his long, brown, curly hair. His style is artistic and slightly bohemian, energetic and inviting.

Andrij earned a B.S. in Conservation Biology and Ecology, and he loves the outdoors. Hiking, camping, racquetball, and the gym keep him active, while he expresses his creative side through painting, jewelry making, and wood burning. Outgoing, quirky, and fun-loving, he's the type who questions everything, thrives on learning, and dreams big: using fungi to restore ecosystems and help native pollinators. Family is deeply important to him, and he's proud to share strong genetics. He chose to become a donor because he genuinely wants to help people, whether they're struggling to conceive, building families through surrogacy, or starting families as a same-sex couple.