

Wilshire 14677 Staff Impression

Wilshire is muscular but not bulky, with broad shoulders and muscular arms from lifting and sports. His face is oval with a strong jawline and a short, well-kept dark beard that connects to thick curly brown hair with tight coils that spring out on top. His green eyes are alert and set under straight brows, with a straight nose, full lips that rest in a slight natural smirk, and fair skin that shows a few light freckles across his nose and cheeks.

Wilshire is a sharp, no-nonsense type with a skeptical mind and a dry sense of humor. He's very athletic, regularly playing basketball, soccer, and baseball, as well as regularly lifting at the gym. He has strong math skills, picks up practical stuff easily, and marches to his own beat with quirky interests like hunting coupons and playing drums. Coming from a tight family, he values accountability and authenticity. He has his sights set on law as a civil litigation attorney one day. He decided to donate because he wants to help people build families and pass on solid genes.
