Pars 20067 Staff Impression

Pars has a muscular frame that he's sculpted with years of weight training. He wears his hair in a sharp undercut: tight, shaved sides and back contrasting with thick, jet-black curly hair on top that he styles with some volume. Dark, intense eyes sit under strong brows, paired with a shapely nose, full lips, and a full, thick black beard that's well-groomed and frames his face. Very fair skin with cool undertones gives him a high-contrast, striking appearance.

Pars is blessed with a great deal of both brains and drive. He's got a B.A. and M.A. in business and works as an accountant and auditor, spotting patterns and crunching numbers like it's second nature. He's a fast learner who stays sharp. On the side, he makes and edits videos, has a short film that got noticed at a festival, dances, blasts music, and still plays competitive-level ping pong and soccer. He's lived across cultures, adapted fast, and came out with this calm, grateful energy and a nonstop mission to keep improving himself. Family values run deep, even with distance, and he's all about inner peace and paying good vibes forward. Pars wants to help people who really want to build a family, and he's excited to play a small part in that whole miracle.
