

Mulholland 14720 Staff Impression

Mulholland is high energy and often in motion, whether it be jogging, biking, or lifting weights. His look is striking with fair skin, vivid green eyes, well-proportioned, symmetrical features, a shapely, well-defined nose, a strong jaw softened by a well-kept dark beard, and slightly tousled dark hair that gives him an easy, lived-in look. He has an edgy artistic style that's a fitting extension of his personality and interests.

He grew up in a household that prioritized connection, creativity, and time outdoors, and it is reflected in the way he lives his life today. He has a practical side that can handle the essentials and fix what needs fixing, but he is also artistic. Cinematography sharpened his eye early, shaping how he reads light, movement, and human expression. Freelance video and photography are how he captures people with a documentary-style lens. His downtime is filled with independent films, especially A24, books with philosophical depth, and music that ranges from downtempo electronic to rock and metal. Once a standout sprinter in the 100m and relay, he now channels that same intensity into fire performance, spinning and dancing with flame in a way that is equal parts discipline and instinct. Socially, Mulholland connects with others easily while valuing his introspective side. He's loyal, perceptive, and grounded, with deep ties to family, especially a brother who remains his closest friend.

He is a person who lives in the moment: driven by experience, creativity, and human connection.
